New Approaches to the Safety, Quality and Performance Triangle

Wednesday, May 10, 2017

Hosted by US-IDF, this symposium and tour is open to anyone interested in the dairy industry, but you must register for that day if you are not attending the working group meetings.

This half day symposium will stimulate ideas by hearing from speakers outside of the dairy industry, address food safety challenges and opportunities, and highlight cutting edge technologies in an effort to balance the triangle of Safety, Quality and Performance.

Presentations:

Challenges and New Approaches in Analytic Techniques – What can we learn from other industries

Darryl Sullivan, Director of Industry and Regulatory Affairs, Covance Laboratories, US; Member of USP expert committee; Board member of AOAC International

Food Safety Challenges and Opportunities

–The U.S. Food Safety Modernization Act – What does it mean for dairy?

Debra Cherney, Cherney Microbiological Services, Ltd, United States

–Are you Ready if There's an Outbreak? Traceability and Technology Advancements

David Boxrud, Minnesota Department of Health, United States

Cutting Edge Technologies

–The Use of Non-targeted Methods in the Dairy Value Chain

Dr. Steve Holroyd, Technical Manager, Fonterra, New Zealand

–Rapid Methods Use for Food Inspection Related to Residues and Contaminants

Speaker Invited

–Big Data Collection – Integration and Communication

Mr. Hay/Sjuul, MCS Diagnostics, The Netherlands

Technical Tour

Following the Symposium, participants will spend the afternoon visiting the Covance Laboratories facilities in Madison, Wisconsin.

Covance Inc. offers laboratory testing services to the chemical, agrochemical and food industries and is a market leader in toxicology services, central laboratory services, discovery services and a top global provider of Phase III clinical trial management services.

You must register by May 1, 2017, to attend Covance tour due to security check requirements.
